

Your Duties as a Director

UNDER CAMA 2020, EVERY DIRECTOR MUST:

- Act in good faith in the best interests of the company as a whole, not one family, one department, or yourself.
- Use power for a proper purpose the reason it was given, not for advantage.
- Exercise care, skill & diligence prepare, attend, pay attention, apply your judgement.
- Avoid conflicts of interest and where one arises, declare and step out (see back).
- Make no secret profit and accept no improper benefit from the office.
- Have regard to wider interests including the workforce and the community you serve.

In the boardroom, wear the board hat.

You may be an owner outside the room; inside it you are a steward of the whole institution. Govern, do not reach into management.

Conflicts & Good Questions

IF A MATTER TOUCHES YOU OR YOUR FAMILY:

- Declare it at the start of the discussion.
- Step out recuse; leave the room for that decision if the interest is material.
- Record it the Company Secretary notes it in the minutes and the register.

FOUR QUESTIONS YOU CAN ALWAYS ASK:

- Why is this different from what we planned?
- Is this a one-off, or a trend?
- What is being done about it?
- What would have to be true for this to get worse?

Who decides? Check the Delegation of Authority.

Reserved matters are the board's. Confidential: what is said in the boardroom stays there.

FAIR PROCESS

Everyone heard · reasons explained · decide for the company
· once decided, support it.
