

Havana Specialist Hospital, Board and Committee Enablement

A proposal from Consult for Africa

Prepared for: The Board of Havana Specialist Hospital Limited

Prepared by: Dr Debo Odulana, Founding Partner, Consult for Africa

Date: 2 July 2026

Classification: Confidential

Following the board's decision to adopt the operating model, this proposal covers the two things needed to make it work in practice: building the board and committee instruments (templates, packs, calendars), and training the executive directors and management to run board and committee interactions well, from reporting and template use to chairing the committees themselves.

1. Where this sits

The board has agreed the shape: a two-tier committee architecture, five board committees, a clear relationship with the Afya-HSH Governance Committee, reporting pathways, and a delegation-of-authority schedule. That is the design. Two things now turn the design into a working board.

First, the instruments: the templates, packs, and calendars that make reporting consistent and the committees run to a standard, so the Company Secretary has a system to administer rather than a set of principles to interpret.

Second, the capability: the executive directors and management need to know how to operate inside this model, how to report by exception, how to use the templates, how to chair a committee, and how information should flow between management, the Governance Committee, the committees, and the board.

This proposal delivers both, and offers optional support through the first governance cycle so the model beds in rather than drifts.

2. Objectives

- Give HSH a complete, ready-to-use set of board and committee instruments, aligned to the adopted operating model and the delegation-of-authority schedule.
- Equip the executive directors and management to run board and committee interactions with confidence: reporting, template use, meeting discipline, and chairing.
- Establish the reporting and escalation habits that keep the board informed by exception and the committees effective.
- Embed the fair-process and conflict discipline that keeps a two-family board legitimate and functioning.
- Leave behind a self-sustaining system the Company Secretary administers without ongoing dependence.

3. Scope

Workstream 1, Board and committee instruments

Development of the full template and document suite, built on the operating model already adopted and finalised with the Company Secretary.

- Board pack template, a single consolidated pack: agenda, chair's notes, management report, committee reports, risk summary, finance pack, decisions log.
- Committee report templates, one-page reporting templates for each of the five board committees and for the Afya-HSH Governance Committee, on a common format (metrics against target, exceptions, risks, decisions requested).
- Agenda, minutes, and action-log templates, standardised across the board and committees.
- Reporting dashboard and KPI pack, the standing management and performance dashboard that feeds the board by exception.
- Board and committee annual calendar, a rolling twelve-month schedule sequencing committees to feed the board in the right order.
- Delegation-of-authority schedule, finalised, thresholds set with the board and operationalised.
- Committee terms of reference, finalised, from the drafts already prepared.

Workstream 2, Capability and training

Practical training for the executive directors and management on running board and committee interactions, delivered as working sessions rather than lectures.

- The board and management operating model, the distinction between governing and managing, and what each committee is for.
- Reporting and escalation discipline, how to report by exception, what escalates and when, and how to use the templates so the board gets decision-ready information.
- Using the instruments, hands-on practice with the board pack, committee reports, dashboards, and action logs.
- Chairing a committee, running a committee meeting, managing time and debate, reaching and recording decisions, and handling conflicts and recusals.
- Board interaction and fair process, how information flows between management, the Governance Committee, the committees, and the board, and how to keep deliberation fair and inclusive in a two-family board.
- The Afya interface, how management and the Governance Committee report upward and keep the board's independent line of sight intact.
- A Board and Committee Handbook, a concise reference the directors and Company Secretary keep and reuse.

Optional, Supported first governance cycle

Consult for Africa attends and quietly coaches through the first quarter of board and committee meetings, refining the templates against real use and giving each committee chair light, private feedback, so the model is embedded, not just launched.

4. Approach

- Built on what is adopted. Every template and session derives from the operating model, terms of reference, and delegation schedule already prepared, so nothing is generic or off-the-shelf.
- Done with the Company Secretary, not around them. The Company Secretary is the long-term owner and is involved throughout, so administration transfers cleanly.
- Practical and hands-on. Training uses HSH's own templates and real agenda items, so directors practise on the actual system they will run.
- Fair-process aware. The training carries the governance discipline the board needs, conflicts, recusal, inclusive deliberation, not just mechanics.

5. Sustaining the model: the board secretariat and a governance owner

The instruments and training create the system; someone must own and run it after we step back. The board secretariat, maintaining the templates and packs, the calendar, minutes and action logs, the conflicts and related-party register, the delegation-of-authority schedule, and committee coordination, is a standing professional function, not a task to be shared informally among directors. We recommend HSH give it a dedicated owner, and set out two routes.

Option A, secondment from the Company Secretary (recommended first step). The board secretariat properly belongs with the Company Secretary, who already holds the statutory company-secretarial role and the governance expertise. The most direct route is to request a secondment, or a named dedicated resource, from them to run the secretariat day to day. It is fast, low-commitment, and keeps the secretariat where it belongs while the model beds in.

Option B, an in-house legal counsel or governance professional. As HSH scales, a permanent in-house counsel gives the hospital its own dedicated owner of board administration, compliance, contracts (including the Afya agreement), related-party and conflicts management, and regulatory matters. This role absorbs the secretariat and becomes the hospital's standing governance and legal capability.

Responsibilities, either route.

- Assemble and circulate the board pack, and manage the annual calendar.
- Keep minutes, decisions, and the action log across the board and all committees.
- Maintain the conflicts and related-party register, and administer the delegation-of-authority schedule.
- Coordinate the committees and the interface with the Afya-HSH Governance Committee.
- Support the chairs and hold reporting to the agreed templates.

Option C, a legal practitioner seconded by Consult for Africa. As an immediate, affordable bridge, Consult for Africa can second a qualified legal practitioner to carry the in-house counsel and board-secretariat function on a modest quarterly retainer. This gives HSH a professional governance owner from day one, at a fraction of a permanent salary, while it decides on a longer-term arrangement. Terms are in Section 8.

Recommendation. Stand the secretariat up now rather than leave it to directors. Either request a secondment from the Company Secretary, or take the Consult for Africa secondment as an affordable bridge, and plan toward a permanent in-house counsel as the hospital grows. Consult for Africa can also help define the role and, through CadreHealth, source and vet a permanent candidate when HSH is ready.

6. Timeline

Indicative, roughly six weeks from go-ahead, adjustable to the board calendar.

Phase	Timing	Focus
Finalise instruments	Weeks 1 to 3	Templates, packs, dashboards, calendar, delegation schedule, terms of reference, with the Company Secretary
Training sessions	Weeks 3 to 5	Executive directors and management: reporting, templates, chairing, board interaction
Handbook and handover	Week 6	Board and Committee Handbook, handover to the Company Secretary
Supported cycle (optional)	First quarter	Attend and coach through the first board and committee meetings

7. Team

Led by Dr Debo Odulana, Founding Partner, with Consult for Africa's governance support. Training draws on Consult for Africa's healthcare governance and leadership-development capability.

8. Investment

This engagement is priced at its full professional value, so the board sees what it is worth, then offered at a substantial board-partner concession because Dr Odulana serves on the HSH board. HSH pays the net fee below, and the concession is shown in full rather than buried in a lower headline rate, the same transparency the board is setting for itself.

Item	Value
Board and committee instruments (WS1)	N2,000,000
Capability, training and the handbook (WS2)	N3,000,000
Supported first governance cycle	included
Full professional value	N5,000,000
Board-partner concession	(N3,000,000)
Net fee, payable by HSH	N2,000,000

Payment: N1,000,000 mobilisation on signing, and N1,000,000 on completion of the instruments and the training and handover. For a six-week, partner-led engagement that includes the training delivery, not just the templates, this is a fair fee kept deliberately accessible.

Optional: an in-house legal counsel, seconded by Consult for Africa

Per Section 5, HSH needs a dedicated owner for the board secretariat and the governance and legal function. Rather than carry the cost of a permanent hire before it is ready, HSH can have Consult for Africa second a qualified legal practitioner to hold this role: board administration, minutes and registers, the delegation-of-authority, compliance, and contract and related-party support.

- Indicative retainer: from N600,000 per quarter for a defined part-time scope, scalable as the hospital and its needs grow.
- Billed quarterly, cancellable, and entirely separate from the mobilisation fee above.
- It gives HSH a professional governance owner immediately, at a fraction of a full-time salary, and buys time to decide on a permanent appointment.

All figures are indicative and subject to the board's confirmation.

9. A note on governance and transparency

Dr Odulana sits on the HSH board as an independent non-executive director, and Consult for Africa is the provider of this engagement at a discounted board-partner rate. That overlap is disclosed in full to both families and to the board. To keep it clean:

- The net fee, and any legal-counsel secondment retainer, are approved by the People and Remuneration committee, with Dr Odulana recused from the decision.
- The engagement is a fixed fee, with no success fee tied to any outcome Dr Odulana would oversee as a director.
- The full value, the concession, and the net fee are all disclosed transparently to all owners.

This is the same standard the board is being asked to set for itself, applied to us first.

10. Next steps

On the board's go-ahead, and with People and Remuneration's approval of terms, Consult for Africa mobilises within the week: the instruments are drafted with the Company Secretary while the training sessions are scheduled around the board calendar.
