THE AESTHETICS PILOT / MEDLYFE WELLNESS x KP x C4A

The Aesthetics Pilot

Operating model and launch plan, July to November.

PREPARED FOR

Dr Itunu Akinware (Medlyfe Wellness / Medbury) and Dr Chinwe Kpaduwa

BY

Consult for Africa

PERIOD

Pilot: July to November 2026

STATUS

Operating model / Benchmark figures for tuning

01 / THE GOAL, AND HOW WE MEASURE IT

What November has to prove.

The pilot succeeds if, by November, four things are true: real demand exists at premium prices; the local team can deliver to Dr Kpaduwa's standard without her in the room every day; the working relationship is reliable and easy; and the unit economics justify a standalone build. Everything below is designed to produce that evidence.

What we test	How we measure it
Demand	Leads, bookings and revenue against a monthly target; enquiry-to-treatment conversion.
Delivery	Treatments delivered by the trained team to protocol; complication and redo rates; patient satisfaction (NPS).
Economics	Revenue per treatment, cost of consumables, contribution per month, repeat-visit rate.
Relationship	Reliability of visits and tele-support, quality of the collaboration, patient feedback on Dr Kpaduwa.

02 / THE SERVICE PROFILE

Non-surgical, regenerative, premium.

A focused menu of high-frequency, high-margin non-surgical treatments, grouped into three lines. Deep enough to be a real service, tight enough to run well in a small clinic.

Injectables

- Anti-wrinkle (botulinum toxin), dermal fillers, bio-remodelling (e.g. Profhilo), skin boosters, PDO threads.

Skin and regenerative

- Medical facials, chemical peels, microneedling and RF microneedling, PRP for skin and hair, mesotherapy, laser (skin, pigment, hair).

Wellness and regenerative add-on

- IV vitamin and wellness infusions, and an optional regenerative wellness screen that ties the aesthetics to Medlyfe's wellness positioning and creates an easy upsell.

03 / PRICING

Premium Lagos benchmarks, to tune.

Indicative price points for the launch menu. Premium but not silly; positioned above mass clinics and below fly-in-only pricing. Tune against the Medlyfe list and Dr Kpaduwa's view.

Service	What it is	Indicative (NGN)
Aesthetic consultation	Assessment, skin analysis, plan	30,000 to 50,000
Anti-wrinkle (per area / full)	Botulinum toxin	150,000 to 350,000
Dermal filler (per syringe)	Hyaluronic acid	350,000 to 600,000
Bio-remodelling / skin boosters	Profilo and similar	200,000 to 400,000
PDO threads	Non-surgical lift	400,000 to 1,000,000
Chemical peel / medical facial	Skin health	60,000 to 180,000
Microneedling / RF microneedling	Skin and texture	120,000 to 300,000
PRP (skin or hair)	Regenerative	200,000 to 400,000
Laser (per session)	Pigment, skin, hair	80,000 to 250,000
IV wellness infusion	Regenerative add-on	50,000 to 150,000

A small introductory-member tier (a modest annual fee for discounted rates and priority booking) can be tested during the pilot to seed repeat behaviour, but it is optional.

04 / THE PATIENT JOURNEY

One standard, every visit.

The experience is the product. A single, repeatable journey, run on HospitlOS for booking, records and follow-up, so it feels the same whether Dr Kpaduwa is in Lagos or not.

Enquire and book. Instagram, referral or the Medlyfe base into an online booking; a coordinator confirms and pre-screens.

Consult and assess. Skin analysis, medical history, photographs (consented), and a written plan and quote. Complex cases are scheduled to Dr Kpaduwa's visits.

Treat. Core treatments by the trained team to protocol; signature and advanced treatments by Dr Kpaduwa on her visits.

Follow up and retain. Structured aftercare, a review appointment, a recall cycle, and a retail skincare regimen.

05 / THE TEAM AND THE TRAINING

Build the capability into the clinic.

This is how continuity is delivered in practice. Dr Kpaduwa trains and credentials a small local team while she is resident, so the service runs to her standard between visits. The clinic depends on a capability, not on one person's diary.

Role	In the pilot	Trained and signed off on
Aesthetic nurse / injector (1 to 2)	Core injectables and skin under protocol	Toxin, basic filler, skin boosters, PRP, complication first-response
Aesthetician / therapist (1 to 2)	Facials, peels, microneedling, laser, devices	Skin protocols, device operation, aftercare
Patient coordinator (1)	Booking, screening, follow-up, retail	HospitlOS, consult flow, recall
Clinic lead / RN	Oversight, safety, records	Governance, emergencies, standards

The training and credentialing plan

- Dr Kpaduwa builds the SOPs and treatment protocols, and a tiered competency framework: what the team does solo versus what waits for her visits.
- Hands-on training and supervised practice while resident, then a formal competency sign-off before independent delivery.
- Complication management drilled: hyaluronidase for filler, anaphylaxis and emergency protocols, escalation to Dr Kpaduwa on tele-support.
- C4A owns the curriculum, the SOP library and the credentialing records, so the capability is documented and portable.

06 / CONSUMABLES AND EQUIPMENT

What to stock, what to check.

Consumables to stock for the launch menu (buy to demand, keep the emergency kit fully stocked at all times):

Group	Items
Injectables	Botulinum toxin, hyaluronic-acid fillers, bio-remodelling (Profilho), skin boosters, PDO threads, mesotherapy cocktails
Regenerative	PRP tubes and kits, centrifuge, microneedling cartridges, RF tips
Skin	Chemical peel solutions, medical-facial and aftercare products, medical-grade retail skincare
Disposables	Needles, cannulas, syringes, gloves, gauze, antiseptic, couch roll, sharps bins, PPE
Wellness	IV fluids, vitamin and infusion kits, giving sets
Emergency (always stocked)	Hyaluronidase (filler reversal), adrenaline and anaphylaxis kit, topical and local anaesthetic

Equipment: confirm what the iFitness clinic already has (treatment couches, a laser or skin device, sterilisation, fridge for toxin and fillers). The gap list is set on Debo's site visit; a modest device top-up may be the only spend, funded from pilot cashflow, not capital.

07 / TESTS AND INVESTIGATIONS

Safe treatment, and a regenerative upsell.

Two purposes: safety screening before treatment, and a wellness screen that supports the regenerative positioning and adds revenue. Bloods run through Medbury Diagnostics / Lifecheck.

- Safety screen: full blood count and clotting (before threads and deep filler); blood-borne virus screen (HIV, hepatitis B and C) for PRP and staff safety; pregnancy test where a treatment is contraindicated.
- Regenerative wellness screen (optional, upsell): vitamin D, B12, ferritin and iron studies, fasting glucose or HbA1c, lipid profile, thyroid, inflammatory markers, and hormones where indicated, packaged as a premium add-on that ties aesthetics to Medlyfe wellness.
- At the chair: device-based skin analysis at every consultation, to anchor the plan and track progress.

08 / THE MARKETING PLAN

Medically led, credibility first.

Aesthetics is sold on trust and on results. The plan leads with medical credibility, Dr Kpaduwa as the anchor, and converts the audiences Medbury already owns before spending on cold reach.

Lever	What we do
Positioning	Premium, medically-led regenerative aesthetics under Medlyfe, with a US-trained plastic surgeon behind the standard.
Owned audiences first	The Medlyfe patient base and Medbury's 785 corporate clients, warmed by email, in-clinic and a corporate wellness tie-in.
Social	Instagram-led: consented before-and-afters, education, and Dr Kpaduwa features while she is resident. Targeted Lagos ads.
Referral and events	A launch event, practitioner and concierge referrals, and influencer or testimonial seeding.
Retention	Recall cycles, membership trial, and a retail skincare regimen that keeps patients on a schedule.

Launch calendar

When	Focus
July	Set up, train and credential the team, brand and content ready, soft launch to the warm base
August to September	Full launch, campaigns live, Dr Kpaduwa resident and featured, build the diary
October	Push repeat and referral, membership trial, gather the evidence
November	Review against target, decide the standalone path

09 / POSITIONING DR CHINWE

Wanted, credible, and honestly framed.

She should feel wanted, not auditioned, and patients should feel they are in expert hands. The framing does both, and stays true to a visiting arrangement.

- Public title: Consultant Plastic and Aesthetic Surgeon and Aesthetics Lead (Visiting), Medlyfe Regenerative Aesthetics; founding member of the Medlyfe Advisory Board.
- The narrative: she sets the standard, trains the team and delivers signature treatments in Lagos, so patients get her standard always and her hands on her visits.
- Internally: treat her as a partner being courted, not a hire on trial. Warmth now earns the commitment later.

10 / AFTER NOVEMBER*What the standalone would need.

If the pilot clears the gate, the standalone SPV, a Medical Aesthetics and Plastic Surgery Centre, is the next build, with Dr Kpaduwa co-investing. That is where capital, a dedicated premium venue, a theatre partner for surgery, and the fuller commercial structure come back onto the table. The pilot's numbers become the assumptions for that model, replacing today's benchmarks with evidence.

The pilot is the cheapest possible way to earn the right to build the bigger thing, and to know it will work before anyone risks capital. That is exactly what these four months are for.
